WATERPROOF TECHNOLOGY

CDC flooring is composed of a high-density composite core that offers exceptional stability and durability.

CDC flooring is highly resistant to water, making it suitable for areas prone to moisture like kitchens.

CDC flooring is known for its exceptional durability, as it is resistant to dents, scratches, and wear. It can withstand heavy foot traffic and is suitable for commercial applications.

CDC flooring typically uses a click-lock system for installation, allowing for easy and quick installation without the need for adhesives.

CDC flooring often replicates the look of natural materials like hardwood or stone and offers a wide range of design options to suit different aesthetics.
